Introduction from Rachel Fletcher, Chief Executive

Improving life through water.

Water companies support all aspects of life. Safe and reliable water and wastewater services are essential for our day to day lives, our wellbeing, and our natural world.

And as the economic regulator of water and waste water in England and Wales, our role is to enable, incentivise and hold companies to account for providing the very best for customers, society and the environment now and in the future. We also oversee the markets that exist in the water sector to make sure they are working for customers.

To achieve this, we've set ourselves three goals. They are to:

- transform water companies' performance;
- drive water companies to meet long-term challenges through increased collaboration and partnerships; and
- for water companies to provide greater public value, delivering more for customers, society and the environment.

Delivering these goals will help to meet customers' needs: ensure reliable and safe water supplies today with a better environment, affordable bills and a resilient and sustainable future for water.

As we do this, we will be working to fulfil the UK and Welsh Governments' strategic priorities for Ofwat, and UK and Welsh Government policy.

We're ambitious about the future and looking for people who can help us to achieve our goals. Thanks for your interest in joining Ofwat. We look forward to receiving your application.

About Ofwat and the role

Ofwat (the Water Services Regulation Authority) is the economic regulator of the water and wastewater sector in England and Wales. Our role is to help it build trust and confidence with customers, the environment and wider society. Ofwat has an ambitious new strategy and as a regulator we are setting ourselves up to achieve and equal the ambition of this new strategy. It matters to us that things on the ground really change so that our impact on customers, the environment and the future of water is tangible and meaningful.

Our work is high-profile and fast-moving, within a dynamic and agile environment. The work that you'll be involved in every day will be about helping us to deliver our strategy, helping to us to be the regulator we want to be and helping the sector to deliver outcomes that matter to customers and society. Our strategy sets out the role Ofwat will play. We will adapt, be confident, act with purpose and integrity and continuously improve so that we make the greatest contribution possible to improving life through water.

Economists

Ofwat (the Water Services Regulation Authority) is the economic regulator of the water and wastewater sector in England and Wales. Our role is to ensure that water companies build trust and confidence with customers, the environment and wider society.

We are seeking experienced regulatory and competition economists.

These roles require a high level of technical competency, good written and oral communication skills, policy skills, well developed people and stakeholder management skills, and a track record of delivery against challenging deadlines.

The roles are part of the economist profession within Ofwat. Economists will be expected to work with other professionals to solve regulatory problems. Our economist roles are not purely technical advisory. We expect our economists to take part in managing and running projects and policy development.

Role expectations

Successful candidates will play an important role in delivering our strategy and will need to be able to respond flexibly to the needs across the organisation. They may be deployed across the full range of Ofwat's work, juggling a competing number of priorities at any one time.

Key deliverables

These will depend upon specific role, but may include:

- Development of analytical frameworks: For example, developing aspects of the methodological framework to be applied at the next price control – PR24;
- Options appraisal: assessing the impact (economic, environmental and social) of alternative options and using this evidence base to develop robust policy recommendations that also align with Ofwat's strategy;
- Monitoring and evaluation: developing analytical frameworks to monitor and assess the impact of regulatory interventions. For example monitoring customer outcomes in water markets that have been opened up to greater levels of competition;
- Research: undertaking or commissioning research and using this to develop insight to influence policy;
- Quality assurance and expert advice: providing expert economic advice relating to regulatory or competition issues across the organisation.

Terms and conditions of employment

Contract

This is a permanent appointment.

Salary

The salary range for this role is Band 3 - £33,851 - £50,615. Salary is paid monthly by credit transfer.

Internal and Civil Service candidates already at this job level would normally maintain their existing salary arrangements as this would be classed as a level transfer. If applying for the role as a promotion, these candidates can typically expect to be appointed on a salary at the bottom of the band or a 10% increase to existing salary, whichever is greater. Starting salaries are set with pay relativities in mind and are at the discretion of the SRM for the resource pool.

Location

The role will be based in either Birmingham or London. However, it is likely that travel between offices and throughout the UK will be needed to be effective.

Any person who regularly works more than two days a month in both the Birmingham and London offices, irrespective of their contracted place of work, is considered by HMRC to have two permanent workplaces.

The payment of your rail fare, accommodation or subsistence in this situation attracts tax and National Insurance because you are receiving a benefit.

Ofwat meets the cost of the tax and National Insurance by grossing up your expenses and recovering the net amount through your monthly pay package. But the expenses are classed as taxable earnings, which could impact on any attachment of earnings – for example, student loan repayments, high income child benefit and state benefits.

This means that you will not be required to meet the costs of travel to the office location where you are not based.

For further information on taxable expenses, please email payroll@ofwat.gov.uk.
