Introduction from David Black, interim Chief Executive

Water companies support all aspects of life. Safe and reliable water and wastewater services are essential for our day to day lives, our wellbeing, and our natural world.

And as the economic regulator of water and wastewater in England and Wales, our role is to enable, incentivise and hold companies to account for providing the very best for customers, society and the environment now and in the future. We also oversee the markets that exist in the water sector to make sure they are working for customers.

To achieve this, we've set ourselves three goals. They are to:

- transform water companies' performance;
- drive water companies to meet long-term challenges through increased collaboration and partnerships; and
- for water companies to provide greater public value, delivering more for customers, society and the environment.

Delivering these goals will help to meet customers' needs: ensure reliable and safe water supplies today with a better environment, affordable bills and a resilient and sustainable future for water.

As we do this, we will be working to fulfil the UK and Welsh Governments' strategic priorities for Ofwat, and UK and Welsh Government policy.

We're ambitious about the future and looking for people who can help us to achieve our goals. Thanks for your interest in joining Ofwat. We look forward to receiving your application.

David Black
Interim Chief Executive

About Ofwat and the role

Ofwat (the Water Services Regulation Authority) is the economic regulator of the water and wastewater sector in England and Wales. Our role is to help it build trust and confidence with customers, the environment and wider society. Ofwat has an ambitious new strategy and as a regulator we are setting ourselves up to achieve and equal the ambition of this new strategy. It matters to us that things on the ground really change so that our impact on customers, the environment and the future of water is tangible and meaningful.

Our work is high-profile and fast-moving, within a dynamic and agile environment. The work that you'll be involved in every day will be about helping us to deliver our strategy, helping to us to be the regulator we want to be and helping the sector to deliver outcomes that matter to customers and society. Our strategy sets out the role Ofwat will play. We will adapt, be confident, act with purpose and integrity and continuously improve so that we make the greatest contribution possible to improving life through water.

Ofwat's environment work and team (Policy and Outcomes)

The natural world is facing profound challenges in the form of climate emergency, wildlife loss, and environmental degradation. The water sector is deeply invested in and reliant on our natural world and is working to protect and improve our environment both now and into the future. Through our strategy, we are making the environment integral to all that we do and we have set out how we will regulate in a way that means that water companies are able to build on the work they are already doing to make the environment an integral part of their business, inseparable from the services they provide.

The role of Senior Associate sits within our environment team, and is part of the wider Environment, Public Value and Governance team. This forms part of the Performance and Outcomes cluster, one of the seven clusters around which Ofwat's work is structured internally. Its purpose is to develop and implement regulatory policy, drive improvement to support our strategic goals for the sector and deliver the best outcomes for customers and the environment. The nature of the role means that you will engage and work closely with Ofwat colleagues across all the clusters.

This is a great opportunity for anyone who is looking to build on their knowledge of environmental policy and practice in the water sector. It is also an opportunity to work in partnership with a wide range of important stakeholders across government, regulators, companies, environmental NGOs and others on key environmental policy projects including:

- delivering a more outcome focussed Water Industry National Environment Programme (WINEP)
- issues relating to water quality and storm overflows

- encouraging and facilitating nature-based solutions
- exploring how we can use natural capital accounting methods
- strengthening the water sector’s approach to climate change and its net zero 2030 ambition
- considering how to bring about change in how people use water.

The challenges are great, and so are the opportunities. In the same year that the UK has hosted COP26, this is a hugely exciting time to join our organisation. The water sector is leading the way on globally significant issues such as achieving net zero, and playing its part in achieving a greener future through the government’s ambitious 25 Year Environment Plan.

Role expectations and key deliverables

You will be expected to play an important role in delivering the environmental policy objectives of Ofwat’s strategy. You will need a good understanding of policy development in an environmental setting and have excellent project management skills. Ideally this understanding will have come from working on environmental issues in a government/regulator policy development and delivery environment, or from working in a relevant industry or environmental consultancy role. Experience or knowledge of the water sector and economic regulation will be useful, but not essential. Enthusiasm and dedication to achieving better environmental outcomes through Ofwat’s work is key.

To be successful in this role this you will need to be a strategic thinker, with good communication and people-handling skills, and the ability to ‘join the dots’ between our work and that of government and other regulators to ensure joined up regulation. You will be able to work effectively across organisational boundaries and challenge the status quo. As such, you will be comfortable representing Ofwat and communicating Ofwat policy to environmental stakeholders including government officials, water companies and environmental NGOs.

The salary range for this role is Band 3 – £34,528 – £51,627. External candidates can expect to achieve a starting salary from the bottom of the band up to £37,000 depending on relevant skills and experience required for the post. Salary is paid monthly by credit transfer.

Internal and Civil Service candidates already at this job level would normally maintain their existing salary arrangements as this would be classed as a level transfer. If applying for the role as a promotion, these candidates can typically expect to be appointed on a salary at the bottom of the band or a 10% increase to existing salary, whichever is greater.

The payment of your rail fare, accommodation or subsistence in this situation attracts tax and National Insurance because you are receiving a benefit.

Ofwat meets the cost of the tax and National Insurance by grossing up your expenses and recovering the net amount through your monthly pay package. But the expenses are classed as taxable earnings, which could impact on any attachment of earnings – for example, student loan repayments, high income child benefit and state benefits.

This means that you will not be required to meet the costs of travel to the office location where you are not based.

For further information on taxable expenses, please email payroll@ofwat.gov.uk.

The successful post holder will be required to work a minimum of 37 hours, excluding lunch breaks. You will be required to work such additional hours as is reasonable and necessary for the efficient performance of your duties.
