

Variation of Icosa Water Services Limited's appointment to include Strode Farm, Lower Herne Village

On 31 January 2022, Ofwat began a consultation on a proposal to vary Icosa Water Services Limited's ("Icosa Water") appointment to become the sewerage services provider for a development in Southern Water Services Limited's ("Southern Water") sewerage services area called Strode Farm, Lower Herne Village ("the Site"). Details of the application and our assessment of it were set out in the consultation document.

The consultation ended on 27 February 2022. During the consultation period, we received representations from three organisations, which are summarised in Section 1 of this document.

We will only make an appointment or variation if our assessment concludes that the application meets the criterion it has been made under; that customers or future customers on the site will be no worse off than if the site had been served by the existing appointee; and if the applicant will be able to finance the proper carrying out of its functions as a sewerage company. As set out in our consultation we are satisfied this is the case. The responses we have received to the consultation have not changed that view.

Having assessed Icosa Water's application and having taken account of the responses we received to our consultation, we decided to grant a variation to Icosa Water's area of appointment to allow it to serve the site for sewerage services. This appointment became effective on 19 July 2022.

The site map for the variation can be found in Section 2 of this document.

The Variation Notice legally making the variation can be found in Section 3 of this document.

1. Responses received to the consultation

We received responses to our consultation from three organisations: the Consumer Council for Water (“CCW”), Drinking Water Inspectorate (“DWI”) and Environment Agency. We considered these responses before making the decision to vary Icosa Water's appointment.

The Environment Agency and DWI had no comments to make with regard to this consultation and did not have any objections. The points raised in CCW's response are set out below.

CCW

In general, CCW expects that new appointments and variations (NAVs) should bring benefits to customers on the Site such as matching or improving the pricing, levels of service or service guarantees. This is particularly true for developments that include domestic housing, as household customers cannot choose or switch supplier.

CCW is disappointed that there is no direct financial benefit to customers from having Icosa Water as their provider of sewerage services, as Icosa Water intends to match the charges of Southern Water. However, as Icosa Water generally matches or exceeds the service standards of Southern Water, CCW overall supports the application as customers will be no worse off in terms of the level of service they will receive or the price they will pay. For example, Icosa Water offers a greater compensation for service failure.

CCW notes that due to the relatively small size of its customer base, Icosa Water does not currently offer a social tariff to financially vulnerable customers in the way Southern Water does, but it will offer the standard WaterSure tariff for qualifying customers. CCW states that until Icosa Water can provide a formal social tariff, it is appropriate for it to tailor some of the services that it provides. CCW sets out its expectation that Icosa Water would offer appropriate, flexible support to any customer in financial difficulty who would otherwise have benefitted from a social tariff and that this should not be at the expense of its other customers. CCW notes that by matching Southern Water charges Icosa Water already benefits from the cross-subsidy that Southern Water's customers pay to support its social tariff.

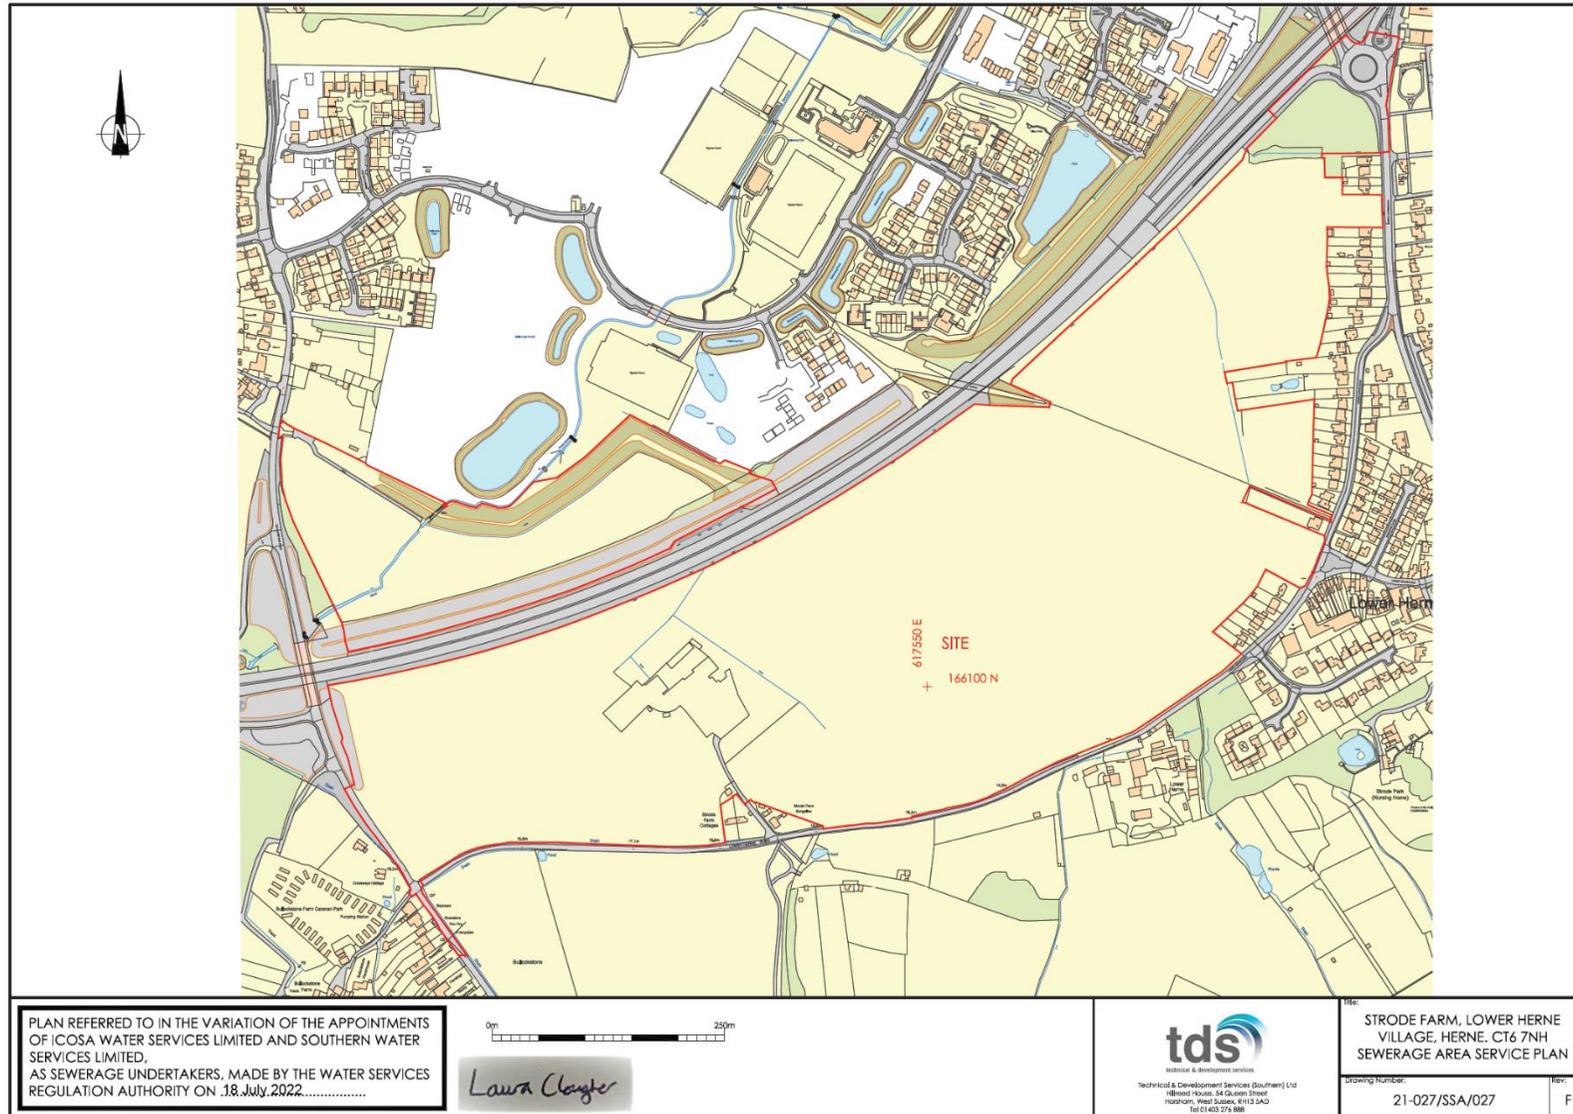

CCW notes our conclusion that, as a result of the variation, Southern Water's existing customers would see a £0.04 increase their annual sewerage bills. While it notes that this is a negligible increase, it is unclear whether there will be any significant benefits to the existing customers of Southern Water and questions the value of the NAV regime if it cannot deliver benefits to all customers.

Our response

One of our key policies is that customers should be no worse off if a NAV is granted. That is, an applicant must ensure its new customers are made no worse off in terms of charges and service than if they had been supplied by the previous appointee. We do not require applicants to better the service and price of previous incumbents.

Vulnerable customers may not be aware of the social tariff that would be available to them if they were served by the incumbent rather than by the applicant. It is the responsibility of the Icosa Water to identify and protect vulnerable customers on the Site. Although the applicant does not offer a social tariff, it should ensure customers will be no worse off.
