

Variation of Independent Water Networks Limited's appointment to include Exning (Phase 2), Newmarket

On 21 June 2022, Ofwat began a consultation on a proposal to vary Independent Water Networks Limited's ("Independent Water Networks") appointment to become the water services provider for a development in Anglian Water Services Limited's ("Anglian Water") water supply area called Exning (Phase 2), Newmarket ("the Site"). Details of the application and our assessment of it were set out in the consultation document.

The consultation ended on 19 July 2022. During the consultation period, we received representations from one organisations, which are summarised in Section 1 of this document.

We will only make an appointment or variation if our assessment concludes that the application meets the criterion it has been made under; that customers or future customers on the site will be no worse off than if the site had been served by the existing appointee; and if the applicant will be able to finance the proper carrying out of its functions as a water and/or sewerage company. As set out in our consultation we are satisfied this is the case. The responses we have received to the consultation have not changed that view.

Having assessed Independent Water Networks' application and having taken account of the responses we received to our consultation, we decided to grant a variation to Independent Water Networks' area of appointment to allow it to serve the Site for water services. This appointment became effective on 21 July 2022.

The Site Map for the variation can be found in Section 2 of this document.

The Variation Notice legally making the variation can be found in Section 3 of this document.

1. Responses received to the consultation

We received a response to our consultation from one organisation: the Environment Agency. We considered this response before making the decision to vary Independent Water Networks' appointment.

The Environment Agency confirmed that it had no comments to make with regard to this consultation and did not have any objections.

2. General comments from the Consumer Council for Water ("CCW")

As part of assessing this application Ofwat has engaged with CCW. CCW's position is that new appointments and variations (NAVs) should bring benefits to customers on the proposed NAV site. CCW expects NAV appointees to provide consumers with prices, levels of service or service guarantees that match or, ideally, better those of incumbent water and/or sewerage companies. CCW has stated that it is satisfied that Independent Water Networks, as an established NAV appointee, offers customers on its sites prices and levels of service which match or better those offered by the incumbent water and/or sewerage companies which would otherwise serve the site. Therefore CCW agrees with Ofwat's assessment that customers on the Site will be no worse off if served by Independent Water Networks and so, overall, supports the proposed variation of appointment.

CCW also considers the impact on the relevant incumbent's existing customers when considering a NAV application. It notes that in some cases there is a potential cost on the annual water and/or sewerage bills of these customers. While this cost is negligible on an individual site basis, CCW is unclear of the wider benefits of the NAV regime for incumbents' customers, particularly as the number of sites in each incumbent area increases and the cumulative cost rises.

Our response

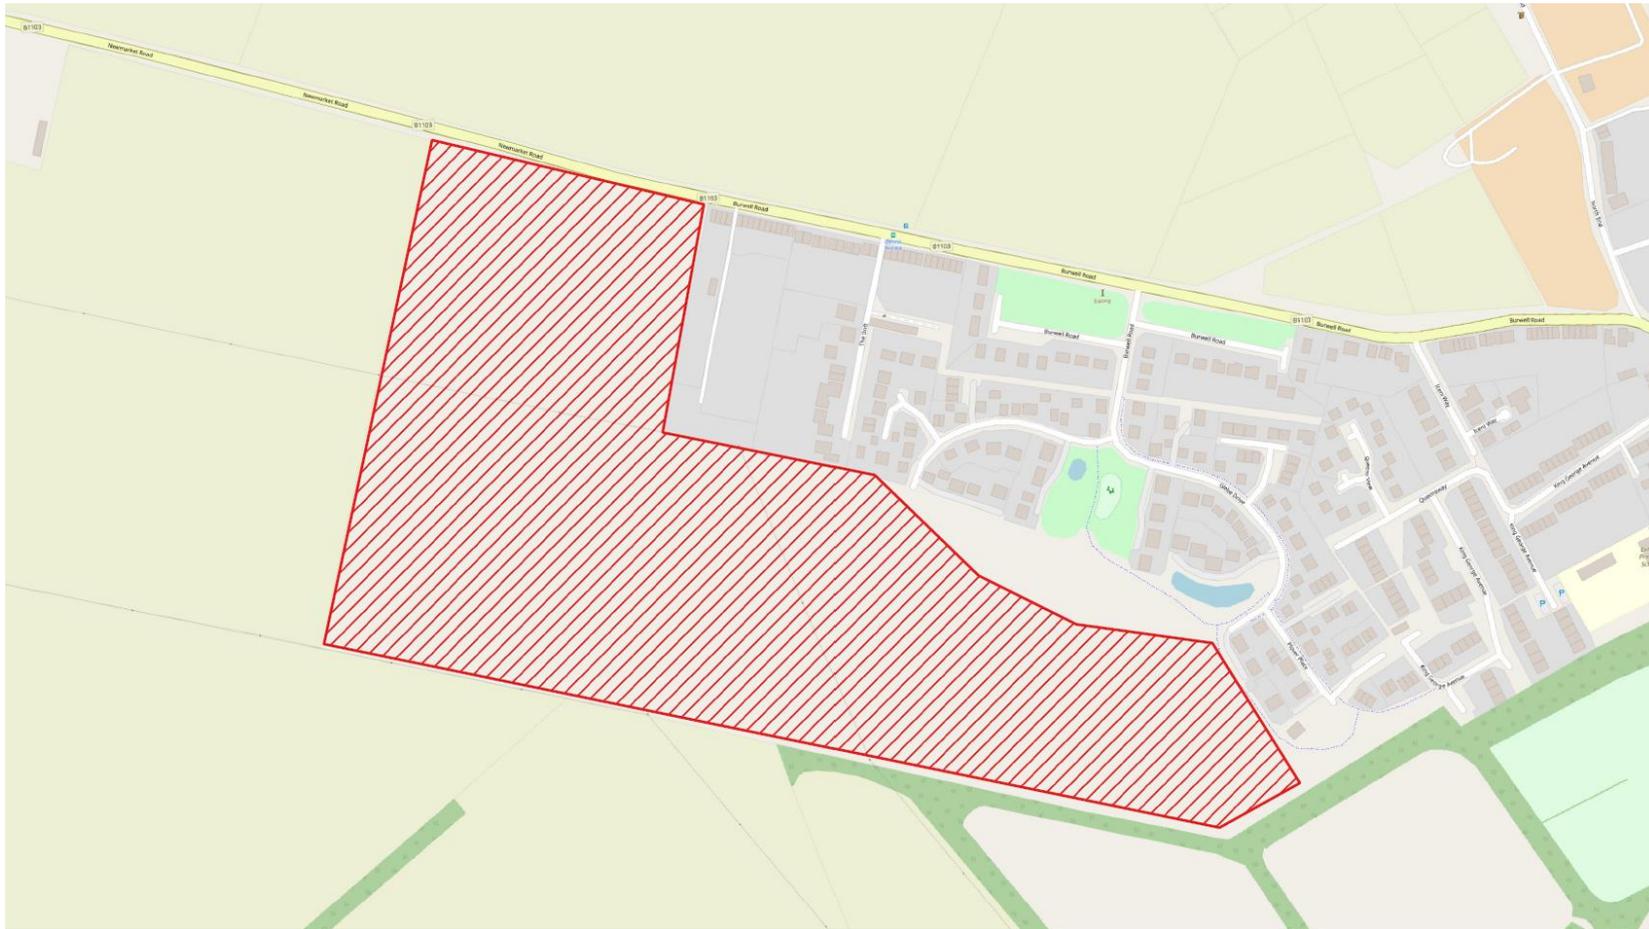

One of our key policies in relation to new appointments and variations, is that customers should be no worse off if a new appointment and variation is granted. That is, an applicant must ensure its new customers are made no worse off in terms of charges and service than if they had been supplied by the previous appointee. We do not require applicants to better the service and price of the previous incumbent.

Vulnerable customers may not be aware of the social tariff that would be available to them if they were served by the incumbent rather than by the applicant. It is the responsibility of the applicant to identify and protect vulnerable customers on the Site. Although Independent Water Networks does not offer a social tariff, it should ensure customers will be no worse off.
