

Variation of ESP Water Limited's appointment to include Malabar Farm, Daventry

On 24 November 2022, Ofwat began a consultation on a proposal to vary ESP Water Limited's ("ESP Water") appointment to become the water and sewerage services provider for a development in Anglian Water Services Limited ("Anglian Water") water supply area and sewerage services area called Malabar Farm, Daventry ("the Site"). Details of the application and our assessment of it were set out in the consultation document.

The consultation ended on 23 December 2022. During the consultation period, we received a representation from one organisation, which is summarised in Section 1 of this document.

We will only make an appointment or variation if our assessment concludes that the application meets the criterion it has been made under; that customers or future customers on the Site will be no worse off than if the Site had been served by the existing appointee; and if the applicant will be able to finance the proper carrying out of its functions as a water and sewerage company. As set out in our consultation we are satisfied this is the case. The response we have received to the consultation has not changed that view.

Having assessed ESP Water's application and having taken account of the response we received to our consultation, we decided to grant a variation to ESP Water's area of appointment to allow it to serve the Site for water and sewerage services. This appointment became effective on 26 January 2023.

The Site Maps for the variation can be found in Section 2 of this document.

The Variation Notice legally making the variation can be found in Section 3 of this document.

1. Responses received to the consultation

We received one response to our consultation from the Consumer Council for Water (“CCW”). Its comments and our response are outlined below.

CCW

CCW stated that in general it expects new appointments and variation appointees to match or ideally better the incumbent’s prices, service levels and service guarantees. This is particularly true for developments that include domestic housing, as household customers do not currently have the ability to choose or switch supplier like business customers can.

CCW noted that ESP Water proposes to charge customers on the same basis as Anglian Water. It is disappointed that there will be no formal financial benefit to customers being served by ESP Water. CCW considers that under these arrangements customers will be no worse off in terms of the amount that they will pay.

CCW noted that ESP Water does not currently offer its financially vulnerable customers a social tariff in the way that Anglian Water does. However, CCW recognised that ESP Water will offer the standard WaterSure tariff for qualifying customers. CCW considers that until ESP Water can provide a formal social tariff, it is appropriate that it tailors some of the services it provides. CCW expects ESP Water to offer appropriate flexible support to any individual in financial difficulty, who would otherwise benefit from a social tariff. It noted that this should not be at the expense of its other customers. CCW said that it recognises that by matching Anglian Water's charges, ESP Water already benefits from the cross subsidy Anglian Water customers pay to support its social tariffs.

CCW said that it notes that ESP Water generally matches or exceeds Anglian Water's relevant levels of service, therefore, overall, it supports this application. CCW noted our assessment that customers on the Site, will not be any worse off in terms of the level of service they receive from ESP Water, then if they were served by Anglian Water and said it is satisfied that this is potentially the case. CCW notes that ESP Water has committed to consider matching the incumbent's level of compensation for service failures if this exceeds the amount that ESP Water has set in its Code of Practice. CCW stated that it would like ESP Water to guarantee to match, at least, any higher level of compensation as this will help ensure its customers are no worse off than those of the incumbent in the event of a service failure.

CCW note that we calculated that there will be a small increase of £0.02 on the water and sewerage bills of existing Anglian Water customers as a result of this variation. CCW said whilst it appreciates this, it is unclear if there are any significant benefits for Anglian Water's customers from this arrangement. CCW states its questions the value of a NAV regime if it cannot deliver benefits to all customers.

Our response

One of our key policies when considering NAV applications, is that customers should be no worse off if a new appointment and variation is granted. That is, an applicant must ensure its new customers are made no worse off in terms of charges and service than if they had been supplied by the previous appointee. We do not require applicants to better the service and price of previous incumbents.

Vulnerable customers may not be aware of the social tariff that would be available to them if they were served by the incumbent rather than by the applicant. It is the responsibility of the applicant to identify and protect vulnerable customers on the Site. Although the applicant does not offer a social tariff, it should ensure customers will be no worse off.
