Sirs in response to your consultation exercise

I feel there is insufficient attention being given to righting the wrongs of water companies' past performance. It is not right to set guidelines as though companies have no accountability for past pollution and damage to the environment.

As well as linking performance to environmental good practice, there must also be a performance tie to success in cleaning up past discharges of sewerage and other non-environmentally friendly practices. This should be with regard to CEO and other Executives pay and benefits and should relate to clear measurable environmental targets.

Regards
