To: Ofwat governance team
Subject: Consultation response PR24

In principle the ideal of aligning remuneration to environmental performance is a sound idea. However I feel that Ofwat is falling in its stated aims on protecting the environment and this guidance will be circumvented in the same way as all previous guidance documents have been, for example in PR19 Ofwat stated aim was “targeting a 30% reduction in pollution incidents”. Has this been achieved, no, pollution incidents have increased and Ofwat has sat on its hands and accepted lame excuse after excuse. PR24 will be equally ignored and Ofwat will do nothing apart from make a statement or two. It’s sad that a body such as Ofwat fails to meet its own obligations and objectives, therefore I can’t see how it can ensure that the bodies it’s supposed to regulate can be effectively controlled.
