

Its far too late to pretend Ofwat will ever do anything to stop the profiteering and deliberate damage to my country's streams, rivers and seas. I've looked at the financial structures, the only option to get our healthy environment back is to nationalize all the water companies. All debt they deliberately took on to pay massive dividends means they get NO money for the company as they have effectively treated our infrastructure money as a present, not as a payment for services as no infrastructure actual services delivered.

I don't know how you all sleep at night at Ofwat/Defra. You've been asleep at the wheel and that's a kind way to put it.

Disgusted of Oxford

[REDACTED]

[REDACTED]